HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use

We respectfully refer to the following Card:

Having examined the New Patent Sinch or Belly Band Fastener, invented by C. H. Horne, of Astoria, Oregon, we take pleasure in informing the public that, in our opinion it is one of the easiest, quickest and best method of tightening a saddle girth that has ever been in use. [DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO APRIL 23.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—In the Senate, Sumner from the Committee on Foreign Relations reported adversely on the bill to pay McKenzie $44,000 in addition to $50,000 already paid him for defending Fenian prisoners.

The Senate took up Sumner's resolution directing the President to appoint commissioners to open negotiations for the annexation of Winnepeg district of Territory or State. Chandler advocated the resolution, claiming that the Government had shown its right of recognition by maintaining itself sometime against attempts at suppression. That our republic could not countenance the theory of dominion on our borders; that the injury inflicted upon the United States by the haste which the British Government made to recognize the belligerency of rebels and her spoliations on our commerce during the war, must now be replaced and made good. After some discussion, the resolution was referred on Chandler's motion to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

The calendar was taken up and a large number of bills passed, including one to repeal the act of February 28th, 1803, Sumner stating that it was the last on the statute book connected with the institution of slavery, prohibiting importation of persons of color into the United States; invalid appropriation bill, appropriating some $30,000,000, and bill to protect counterfeiting foreign trade marks, protected by treaty stipulations.

A number of bills were indefinitely postponed, including one by Sumner for the return to specie payments.

At the expiration of the hour the House in committee resumed consideration of the tariff section relating to scrap iron, which was passed over, amendments being rejected. The next paragraph was all iron in slabs, blooms, loose or other forms, including ends, clippings, and punchings of new iron less finished than bars and more advanced than pig iron, except castings, one per cent. per pound. Several amendments were offered and rejected. The amendment agreed to was Butler's motion to add a proviso that on all ends, clippings, punchings, turnings and borings of iron to be manufactured into ingots or bars, a duty of $11 be paid.

Washington News in General

CHICAGO, April 22.—Talk among the leading members of the House on the Georgia bill shows pretty much everybody at sea on the bill. There was a strong disposition yesterday to take the Senate bill as it stands now. There is reason to believe that it is not satisfactory to some Senators who gave it their votes. No one can predict in what form it will go to the President. The House committee will not agree to the Senate bill, and some of its members think they will report the original bill again and try its fate.

Active movements have been rumored from the Executive Mansion for the ratification of the San Domingo treaty. It is reported that there are parties here who have power to extend the time for the ratification of that instrument, notwithstanding the treaty itself fixes the period for its own determination. Opponents of the treaty think the San Domingo business is losing ground with the country the more it is discussed, but they are equally sensible of the fact that appliances which are brought to bear upon individual Senators are not without effect.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Senate Judiciary Committee was engaged in the preparation of a bill to enforce the 15th amendment, and made such progress that it is expected a comprehensive measure of that nature will be reported next week.

CHICAGO, April 23.—The Tribune's Washington special says the Senate has agreed to proceed next Tuesday afternoon to the consideration of the Sandwich Island treaty, concluded at San Francisco May 18, 1867, and laid before the Senate in July of that year. The treaty was once fully considered in the Senate when the sentiment with regard to it seemed pretty equally divided, and its friends asked that it might lay on the table without prejudice. Ratifications were to be exchanged eighteen months from the date of treaty, but the time has been extended to-day till next month.

Secretary Fish still adheres to the determination not to receive Caldwell, our late Minister to Bolivia, as ambassador from that government; not that there is anything in the Constitution or laws to prevent it, but that he does not wish to make a precedent.

A joint resolution has been introduced in the House authorizing the President to receive American citizens as representatives of foreign powers sending them.

A bill for the enforcement of the 15th amendment has been drawn. It contains twelve sections to punish by fine and imprisonment for direct or indirect attempts to prevent any colored man from voting; and gives District and Circuit United States Judges jurisdiction in such cases.

J. Ross Brown, ex-Minister to China, has arrived here to secure the appropriation for his deferred salary now pending before Congress.

Nominations.

The President sent in the following nominations: Benj. J. Waltiers, Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, David C. Humphreys, of Alabama, Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

Concerning the Legal Tender Decision.

The withdrawal of the legal tender appeal cases by plaintiffs, has caused a general feeling of relief. There is little doubt that if the recent decision had been reversed in the manner foreshadowed, there would have been a formidable political movement started to reverse the second decision by the addition of more judges at the Presidential election. This movement had already taken shape and embraced some of the most influential Republicans in the country.

Steamer Burned at Sea

NEW YORK, April 22.—The steamer Darien arrived to-day from Leghorn reports that on the 20th inst. in lat. 47, long. 70, she saw a vessel on fire. The boats were lowered when it was found she was a steamer and burned to the water's edge. This probably was the Cleopatra overdue from Havana, though fears of her safety are dispelled by fact that she was seen by the Juno which has arrived at Philadelphia, lying still with no smoke issuing from her furnaces and no sign of accident to her machinery.

Gratifying Indian News.

ST LOUIS, April 22.—Official advices from Fort Still, Indian Territory, are received at headquarters, stating that a large portion of the Comanches and Kiowas are affiliated together in bands. Indians manifest a desire to have their lands fenced and broken up for agricultural purposes. A writer says a lasting peace may be secured if the Government carries out its present policy.

Canadian Military Movements.

MONTREAL, April 22.—Four persons were arrested on the arrival of the American train last evening on suspicion of being Fenians. More troops have left for the frontier. The volunteers are still under arms at Quebec. Two battalions there have offered their services for the Red river expedition. Father Richett and Scott, arrested and accused of being accessories to the murder of Thomas Scott, at Red river were admitted to bail.

TORONTO, April 22.—Ottawa dispatches state that instructions are issued by the Militia Department to withdraw the volunteers from the front, no trouble appearing to exist there.

The country in the vicinity of Campbell's Ford is completely inundated. Dams and piers on the river are swept away and business is suspended. Factories and shops along the river are flooded and damage to property very great.

Pretended Plot Against Prince Arthur.

MONTREAL, April 22.—The police profess to have discovered a plot to seize Prince Arthur and carry him off to an obscure place on the United States frontier, to be held as hostage for the good treatment of the Fenian prisoners that may fall into the hands of the authorities.

Petition for Constitutional Amendment.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A petition to Congress, numerously signed, asking for the passage of a constitutional amendment forbidding appropriations by States for sectarian schools.

The Tammany General Committee have reorganized for the current year, with Tweed for Chairman.

Investigation of Spiers' Case.

LEAVENWORTH, April 22.—The investigation of ex-Collector Spiers' case shows a still larger deficit than was at first reported. The amount will not fall short of $160,000. Evidence was obtained to-day, which shows that forged affidavits of reports were used, by which large amounts received from Deputy Collectors were withheld. Prominent revenue officers in Kansas received $2,500 hush money.

Darien Canal Treaty Rejected.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Private advices from Bogota, say the Darien canal treaty has been rejected by the Colombia Congress.

Floods at the North.

PERTH, (Canada) April 22.—Most of the bridges along the Mississippi and Clyde rivers have been carried away by the freshet. Reports from Hastings say the flood was very general and almost all the villages were inundated.

Ship Struck by Lightning and Burned.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The ship Thomas Freeman, from New Orleans for Cornstadt, was struck by lightning on the 18th inst., latitude 35, longitude 14, and burned. The crew were saved and brought here.

Burlingame's Remains at Boston.

BOSTON, April 22.—The remains of Anson Burlingame laid in state to-day at Faneuil Hall, guarded by a detachment of Cadets. A number of visitors were in the hall, but the casket is not yet opened.

From Cuba.

HAVANA, April 22.—A court martial at Cienfugos condemned a priest to death for preaching insurrection and blessing the insurgent flag.

Private letters deny Jordan's flight, and state that he is the vicinity of Holquim.

A telegram from the Captain-General's headquarters reports affairs at Puerto Principe satisfactory.

Miscellaneous.

ALBANY, April 22.—The Senate, before the final passage of the New York tax levy, adopted an amendment, repealing the provision in the former tax bill, providing for the support of sectarian schools. The repeal takes effect December 30th.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Arrangements are being made to organize a colony to settle in Alabama. The Adjutant General denies that Gen. McDonald received orders from Washington to look out for Fenians on the frontier.

CHICAGO, April 23.—A New York special says that the Fenians claim that they will put twenty-five regiments in the field on short notice, and have determined to send assistance to the Red river insurgents.

The Fenian Congress expects to adjourn to-morrow night.

BY THE CABLES.

MADRID, April 22.—Orleanists think Montpensier's chances for the throne of Spain is improved by his duel with Prince Henri.

A duel was recently fought between Gen. Prim and Admiral Topete, the particulars of which have been carefully hushed up. Prim has certainly been suffering lately from slight wounds, and the story of a duel probably arose from this.

PARIS, April 22.—It is announced as certain that the French army which never votes, will participate in Plebiscitum on the 8th prox.

LONDON, April 22.—The Fenians have threatened vengeance against Pall Mall Gazette on account of the vigorous course taken by that journal in favor of enforcing the law for the protection of life and property in Ireland. The proprietors of the Gazette have asked the authorities for protection, and the police nightly patrol that vicinity. Considerable excitement and Fenians are unusually active. Seizures of arms and other war material were made by the authorities yesterday at Manchester and New Castle.

LONDON, April 22.—The morning Post applauds the Supreme Court of the United States for its refusal to reopen the legal tender cases, and expresses the opinion that the balance of the American legal authorities are adverse to the constitutionality of the legal tender acts.

The Times approves of the proposed World's Evangelical Conference in New York, and thinks it may achieve lasting beneficial results.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—The following is the passenger list of Pullman's Hotel Express train from Omaha, April 21, due at San Francisco April 27, at 7.30 P. M.: J. K. Milburn, J. Case, Mrs E. W. AN INDIAN LODGE ON THE NORTHERN COAST.—Some time after our first visit, we had the opportunity of spending a few hours about the old lodge-grounds. When we landed, our former interpreter was on hand, ready to answer our queries, and Tyee-man Jim Settle was not far behind. As soon as he joined us, we walked to the site of the "Old man house," which is just above the shingle beach. This, from the first, had interested us more than all else connected with the tribe, and, truly, it must have been an aboriginal structure of grand proportions, erected at the expense of a vast deal of patient labor, when we consider the rude mechanical tools in general use among the natives in early days. As to the date of its commencement or completion, we have no reliable record. The weather-beaten appearance of the remaining frame-work, however, shows that many, many a winter's rain and snow have beaten upon it. We measured the length and the breadth of the ground work, which, at the time, could only be traced by the scattering supporters of the once heavy roof—the former still revealing their ancient decorations—some wrought into rude carvings, representing human characters, while others exhibited tri-colored paintings of black, white and red. The length of the peculiar dwelling-place is 714 feet; its greatest breadth fifty-four feet—being the most spacious near the centre, and narrowing to thirty nine feet at each end. The only two rafters remaining were of huge dimensions—measuring over two feet in diameter—and were supported by flat posts, averaging three feet in width by eight inches or more in thickness. On the sides of two, facing the interior, images had been wrought, in the usual rude style of the hieroglyphics frequently seen among the Indians of the north-west coast. Others were painted in sections of perpendicular strips of white and red or semi circles and half diamonds of the same colors. One, standing near the north east corner, had the figure of a human head carved upon it, and several others showed circular bosses on their face sides, which appeared to have been formerly painted white, and a space above and below them was red. The remaining planks of the roof showed plainly that they had been brought into the required shape by the tedious process of hewing or chipping with the Indian adze, and the timbers forming the rafters bore the same marks. The ground floor appeared hollowed out, as if by design, but, more probably, the concavity was caused by the constant tramp[l]ing of the multitude of occupants, who, at one time, crowded its enclosures. From the knowledge we have obtained, it is but reasonable to suppose that the structure was designed, not only for a dwelling, but, also, as a place of defense against the marauding expeditions, that, in former years, occasionally came in from the north.—[illegible] Overland Monthly for April.

Wm Penn[illegible] is the place where [illegible] days come together." Nearly half the population are Seventh Day Baptists and on Saturday half of the mills, shops and other places of business are closed, and half of the churches are filled with worshippers, who on Sunday resume their secular occupations, while their neighbors take religion and rest.

The course of lectures on "Free Religion," lately set on foot at Lowell, Mass., has proved a failure, the attendance being much too small to warrant the expense.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Agricultural reports from all parts of Tennessee are very encouraging.

A reduction in the wages and hours of labor in the New England factories will soon be made.

A Boston paper says that there are very few railroads in New England whose receipts are not now from 100 to 500 per cent. in excess of the original estimates.

The Nova Scotia Annexation League have issued a circular, setting forth the advantages to their coal mines and other interests of annexation to the United States.

One result of General Butler's investigation into the doings of newspaper correspondents will be to show that news was manufactured in Washington to aid the Cuban cause.

The Globe Inn, Dumfries, Scotland, once frequented by Robert Burns, and which contains the chair he used, was recently offered for sale for £200, but there were no bidders.

Rev. L. B. Beach, of Andover, Ashtabula county, Ohio, died on the 26th ult. He was the clergyman who solemnized the marriage of Vice President Colfax and Miss Nellie Wade.

It is stated that every farm of 160 acres in Eastern Kansas is underlaid with 1,555,000 tons of coal, or nine times more fuel than if the surface were covered with heavy timber.

The Chilton Times says it can be proved "from the records" that Mrs. Patrick Connelly, of Stockbridge, Calumet county, produced six children in eleven months. On the strength of this they challenge the world to beat Calumet county on babies.

The stuffed whale that was seized at Columbus, Ga., recently for debt, was sold the other day for one dollar and fifty cents. He is to be sent to a Mr. Noble, in Savannah, who has a museum in that city, who pays fifteen dollars for it and all expenses.

One of the editorial concoctions of the New York World is signed "Printer's Devil." There has been for years a suspicion abroad that the Devil wrote the editorials of the World, but this is the first time that he has been known to sign his name to his compositions.

In Ireland it is a crime to consign a nation to the realms of perdition, for at Armah one Michael Byrne has been sentenced by court-martial to one hundred and sixty eight days' imprisonment, and to be discharged from the service, marked B. C., for crying "To hell with England," in the public streets.

At East Saginaw a large portion of the marsh formerly attached to the middle ground of the bayou, just across the river, which was always supposed to have been a fixture, has detached from the bed in which it has so long been cradled, by the action of the flood, and has floated down the stream and lodged across the track of the Saginaw city railway, where it will probably remain for the present.

During the past ten years, April has been a memorable month in these days. The attack on Fort Sumter and the beginning of the long civil war occurred on the 12th of April. Richmond and Petersburg were evacuated by the rebels on the 3d of April, Lee surrendered on the 9th; Abraham Lincoln was shot on the 14th and died on the 15th, a little past 7 o'clock; Wilkes Booth, the murderer, was shot by Boston Corbett on the 24th, and on the 27th Johnson surrendered his army to Sherman.

Everybody has reason to know that the paper money which has long served as a substitute for coin and which by the way specie does not seem in such a hurry to displace as was a little while ago expected—incurs constant wearing, soiling and defacing, and the aggregate of mutilations furnishes an interesting statistical item. The mutilated bank notes burned during the week ending March 26, amounted to $289,600; total amount burned, $21,566,794; bank currency issued for bills destroyed during the week ending March 26, amounted to $257,340, total amount issued therefor, $21,349,000. It should be remembered that this only includes the mutilated paper for which new money has been issued. There is a great deal never presented for exchange and remaining a loss to the people among whom it circulated. So that the amount of mutilated money is larger than the figures indicate.

It has been stated that one of the amendments to Mr. Cullom's Utah bill, adopted by the House of Representatives, previous to the passage of the bill by that body, is so worded as to disfranchise the Mormon women in Utah Territory, who were recently enfranchised by the Legislature. A careful examination of the bill shows, as it is at present, that it does not prevent women from voting in that Territory, except such as live and practice bigamy, polygamy, or concubinage, it being provided in the bill that no person, male or female, who so lives, shall be entitled to vote, hold any office of trust or profit, or be entitled to the benefits of the pre-emption laws, but no reference is made to other females voting. The sixth and seventh section provides that the grand and petit jurors must be good and lawful men, hence women cannot set upon juries. The bill is now before the Senate Committee on Territories.

Utah is not only plagued with locusts, but with an insect called the "elephant beetle." A credible person who returned from the neighborhood of Salt Lake, recently, saw myriads of them covering the earth with their shining, brownish black bodies, and destroying everything which they met in their path. Even small animals, he was informed by the ill-fated residents, did not escape the rapacity of these hordes. Their bodies were crowded upon, and wounded cruelly with the powerful antennæ, until they fell down exhausted by their struggles and loss of blood, when they were fastened upon by thousands and devoured. The entire carcass of the sheep was eaten, and the bones picked clean in three or four minutes; and it is said that a dead ox would be gobbled up by them in a quarter of an hour. So ferocious are these giant beetles that mothers are afraid to let their children go out of the house unattended by a grown person. In their frequent bloody contests the wounded are devoured on the instant.

PILING IT UP.—The local of the Helena Herald, in his description of a calico party, indulges in the following:

The beauty, the fashion, the aristocracy, in a word, the very creme de la creme of our society, was there. Young girls of sweet sixteen, in all their loveliness and simplicity, and matrons of seventy, young men and old men, lawyers, doctors, Judges, Federal officials and military officers all joined in the general merriment and social hilarity of the occasion. The ladies were all, with perhaps one or two exceptions, attired in calico dresses—dresses of every conceivable color, style and pattern, and oh! how bewitchingly pretty, how unspeakably charming they did appear. They were fascinating as Cleopatra and lovely as Calypso and her nymphs. To be there in their midst was like breathing the sweet fragrance of the groves of Java, and sleeping upon the down of the cygnet of the Ganges.

The grand jury now in session in Chicago, will investigate the assault on Mr. Storey, of the Times of that city, by the "Blondes." Lydia Thomson will therefore have to appear there in a new part, but it is one of her own choosing, and she must assume it whether it be to her liking or not. The cowhiding of an editor is an offense too serious to be passed over without investigation. The laws against indecent exhibitions are, to all intents and purposes, dead. Lydia will suffer, if she suffer at all, not for her greatest offenses, but merely because she had a "little unpleasantness" with a newspaper man.

A Lame Argument for Repudiation

In former articles we have shown that repudiation under the "equitable adjustment" plan proposed by the Albany platform would annihilate from one to two thousand millions of property and that such wholesale confiscation or pillage would inevitably result in the greatest disasters and calamities to all classes but chiefly to those who labor. This argument the Herald attempts to answer in this way

> When a proposition to destroy several hundred millions of slave property in the South by an emancipation proclamation was first advanced many papers on the Democratic side predicted that all sorts of convulsions would result, and that general disorder and ruin would be entailed. The proclamation was however issued and at one sweep more than two thousand millions of values were wiped out of existence. Now while the results of this policy were serious they did not entail the extent of ruin and misery upon the country that was predicted. Our purpose in alluding to this old matter just now is to exhibit the similarity of the prophecies made in regard to the abolition of slavery with those uttered now by the Radical papers in regard to the equitable adjustment of the public debt.

The Herald here unwittingly makes one of the strongest possible arguments against itself. The two thousand millions of property in human flesh, (how the bare idea of what has been makes one shudder!) was mainly in the disloyal or rebellious portion of the Union. Nine-tenths of the whole amount of this property belonged to men who were in arms against the Government. The States of Kentucky Maryland and Missouri the only slave States that did not formally secede, were really as rebellious in sentiment as Mississippi or Georgia, and each of them sent thousands of men to the Confederate armies. Each of them was repeatedly devastated by both armies during the war. Practically, then, this "slave property" was wholly in the disloyal States. Now the point to the argument is this. It was the destruction or annihilation of this property amounting as the Herald says to more than two thousand millions of dollars, that gave the most terrible blow to the Southern Confederacy and led directly to its overthrow. The emancipation proclamation weakened the Confederacy more than the loss of its greatest army would have done. Prior to the adoption of this policy by the Government the Confederacy stood erect and defiant, but after the adoption of it, the rebel cause began to wane. No more great successes were gained and it was impossible for the Confederate leaders to infuse that vigor and energy into the struggle which had characterized their earlier operations. The truth is the abolition of slavery was the measure which "broke the back bone" of the rebellion. The annihilation of "more than two thousand millions of values was a blow which the rebellious South could not recover from. Had this measure not been enforced the Confederacy must have succeeded at last, and achieved its independence. What reverse of war could equal the destruction of two thousand millions of values at a time when the Confederacy needed all its resources, and when it was indispensable to its success that the hopes and the confidence of its people should be kept up to the highest pitch? But disastrous as this measure was to the South, the annihilation of the national debt would be far more disastrous to the country at large. For slave property was local, and could not be used in the channels of business and commerce as national securities are. The world did not recognize such property, and therefore the effects of emancipation could not be so wide-reaching as the effects of repudiation would be. Again, there was no national dishonor in abolishing a species of property in a rebellious section of our country, which was not known or recognized as property by enlightened nations, but there would be deep infamy and lasting dishonor in repudiating a debt for the payment of which our country has pledged its faith to its own people and to the whole world.

The abolition of slavery was a terrible shock to the South, but owing to the peculiar nature of this "property" the disastrous results were temporary. Repudiation would give a more terrible shock to our whole country and outrage the sense of mankind and its effects would be such as the country never could recover from. Disastrous as the consequences of annihilating this amount of property would be, more disastrous still would be the effects on the morals of the people, and on the future credit and welfare of the country."

The Votes of "Ignorant Classes"

A few days ago the leading organ of the Democracy of the United States, the New York World, in an article intended to belittle the importance of the Fifteenth Amendment, made the following statement.

> The Democratic party, which has more experience, and has always had greater success than its opponents in managing the votes of ignorant classes, may easily, by some sacrifice of prejudice, frustrate the design of the Republicans in conferring universal suffrage upon the negroes. A little electioneering activity and adroitness on our side will show the Republicans, that they have beaten the bush for us to catch the bird

In other words, the World regards the whole colored element as worthless trash, which the Democratic party can easily capture, because all the worthless trash naturally gravitates towards the Democracy! This is the conclusion, as plain as words can state it. The Democratic managers in this city acted on this supposition when they offered the colored people one thousand dollars to use in celebrating the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment, on condition of their voting the Democratic ticket in the approaching election, but the said managers were refused, and much to their surprise found the new voters above them and all their ways.

It is well said by the New York Times that it would have puzzled the most ingenious journalist to have deliberately incorporated into the same number of lines more mischievous concessions, pregnant with stronger arguments against the Democratic party than are contained in this extract. The admissions, which the World seem so unconsciously to make, embrace the substance of the charges which have been made against that party by its opponents, and are moreover, precisely those best calculated to exasperate the element upon which it chiefly relies for success. We can imagine that that element will scarcely relish such plain talk. There is no questioning the fact that the Democratic party has had far more experience, and infinitely more success than its Republican opponents in managing the votes of ignorant classes, but still those ignorant classes will not like to be reminded either of their political venality or of their ignorance. Neither is it pleasant for Democrats to be so publicly reminded that the measure of success they have heretofore had has been due to such questionable means

Immigration

It is noticeable that the number of persons now arriving by steamer from California is very large. Many of them consist of families who come to our State to obtain permanent homes. Prospects for large accessions to our population certainly look better than for many years.

By the steamer which arrived from San Francisco on Friday, one Mr D Klintworth, President of the All[illegible] of Chicago, [illegible] our State for the purpose of ascertaining what advantages it offers to settlers, a large number of whom he represents as ready to come if favorable reports are obtained. He purposes to make inquiries as to suitable localities for settlement, to visit different portions of this State and Washington Territory and to return overland to California. It is a German Immigration Society with which Mr Klintworth is connected and he informs us that very many persons of that nationality are turning their thoughts in this direction.

This is the same Society with which Gov Salomon of Washington Territory is acting and quite a number of persons who design to establish themselves in that Territory and in Oregon will reach here in company with him by the next steamer from San Francisco.

Mr Klintworth is correspondent of a newspaper of large circulation, published at Leipsic Germany for which he will furnish articles respecting the climate soil productions and general features and resources of our Pacific States and Territories.

It is truly gratifying to witness the increased attention which our State is beginning to receive from abroad and there is every reason for a confident belief that within the next decade our population will be fully doubled. Every day Oregon is becoming better known and less remote and isolated, and in a very few years will surely develop into a great commonwealth.

The Primaries and the County Convention

The Republican primaries in this city on Saturday were warmly contested, and unusual interest was manifested in them throughout. The number of votes thrown indicates that a much larger proportion of the whole party turned out than has commonly appeared on such occasions heretofore. Though the friends of the different candidates conducted the contest in a spirited manner the affair passed off quietly, and, for the most part, harmoniously. Naturally there is some disappointment after such a contest but on this occasion it has not developed into dissatisfaction. All acquiesce in the result, and we feel sure the party will be perfectly harmonious and united. The gentlemen selected for the County Convention are all well known and excellent citizens and doubtless will present an acceptable ticket. The signs are favorable for a sweeping Republican majority in Multnomah. There will now be a lull of a week till the ticket is put in the field, and then there will be a bold, vigorous and determined advance till success is achieved in the election.

Editorial Notes

If Col Kelly were a more adroit politician he might succeed better, but awkward as he is, his whole life has been a record of political blunders and failures. When the extremists of his party approved secession he defended that, now when the same element clamor for repudiation he defends that. His luck in defending repudiation will be the same that befel him in defending secession.

As opposition papers have been charging that Gen Palmer once swindled Gen Sheridan by paying him a debt in greenbacks a citizen of Benton county last week telegraphed to Gen Sheridan to ascertain the facts. To this inquiry Gen. Sheridan answered under date of April 18 "Gen Palmer settled with me honorably." The Corvallis Gazette, to which we are indebted for this statement, asks "Have Democrats anything more to say about that?"

The Democratic organ says that on Saturday last, on the occasion of the Republican primaries "money and whisky flowed like water." From indications that were seen on that day we suppose this is true,—but then the money and whisky were poured out by the Democratic ward and county politicians to run in to the Republican primaries, (in order to create discontent in the Republican ranks), that class of Democratic voters whom the Herald in the language of compliment has turned "irresponsible vagabonds." They were not permitted to vote however.

The Albany Democrat is disgusted with the Portland Herald, because of repudiation proclivities of the latter. It calls the Herald's assumptions on this subject "arrant nonsense, discreditable to the writer and damaging to the party," and goes so far as to hint that the proprietor of the Herald will not receive the full support of the party for State Printer unless his journal changes its course, or, as the Democrat puts it, "forswears strange gods." Now let us see if the Herald will have courage to respond. We are bound to say in behalf of that paper however that it and not the Democrat, is the organ deputed to speak for the party.

The first attempt to fire the mine in Blossom Rock failed from the connecting wire breaking. The second seven minutes past 1 o clock succeeded. No report perceptible to persons on shore and but little smoke escaped less than would come from an ordinary cannon. Prof Davidson's instruments on shore showed but the faintest trace of vibration. The main body of water apparently a hundred feet in diameter rose one hundred and twelve feet and two jets colored deep black by the powder from fifty to one hundred feet higher. Small stones went still higher and rained down a shower over a space of 600 yards diameter. The return wave did not ascend over fifty feet. So far as can be seen the destruction of the rock is complete and its danger as obstacle to navigation no longer exists. The steamer Neva[illegible] passed directly over the spot to night and observed that the tide ebbing and flowing makes no ripple at that point. Soundings are to be taken Monday to determine what portion if any of the rock remains in place and what measures are required to remove it. There is considerable excitement and new life among the local militia organizations at present. It is understood that [illegible] Light Infantry will be transferred from the Second to the First Regiment and the second will be reorganized and filled to the regular standard. It is also reported that the Brannan Guard a negro company will demand to be mustered into the National Guard of California and attached to the 2d Regiment though there will be strong opposition to the demand being granted. The drawing is on a similar plan to the Havana Lottery. They will announce their first scheme soon. They hope to clear off the entire indebtedness of the association from the per centages of this enterprise.

LOS ANGELES April 23 —The latest from San Diego says the prospects at Julian City are still encouraging. Though there has been a scarcity of money in the district considerable work has been accomplished on several prominent ledges. Van Wert Hayden Good Hope Owens San Diego and Washington ledges have been sunk upon to the depth of 25 to 35 feet without material change in the quality of the rock. Mines are being opened daily and in many cases show rich prospects. A tunnel company has been formed and they are now at work at the eastern side of Washington Hill. Specimens of rich ore are daily brought in from beyond the limits of the district. Prospectors are out in all directions. A party of thirty have started within a few days on a tour to a point which has not yet been made known. Julian City is becoming rapidly settled and living continues cheap.

STOCKTON April 23 —The Republicans are holding their primaries for the purpose of electing delegates to the Convention on Monday night. TO WAGON BUYERS.

WE ARE ACCUSED OF PUBLISHING STATEMENTS that are untrue respecting the Jackson Wagon which we most emphatically deny as we are not in the habit of making assertions that we cannot substantiate when necessary. Efforts of interested parties to bolster up the reputation of what is generally known as a cheaper grade—or a State's Prison built—wagon by comparison with the justly celebrated CONCORD or BAIN manufacture sound simply absurd to all who are posted. Differences in quality of material and manner of construction are not readily distinguished after a wagon is painted but any man with half an eye will readily discover a marked difference in workmanship and finish between the respective makers. Our prices for the "Bain wagon" include Box Top Box Roller Brake and other Extras and are not quotations for "Running Gears" alone. These prices will always be as low as for any first class complete Farm Wagon. All who contemplate purchasing will do well to examine and compare before buying and see what they are getting for their money. Send for descriptive circular explaining the many superior excellencies of the Bain Wagon. Address

[illegible] There was an ear[illegible] between the friends of the two candidates [illegible] [illegible] dates for [illegible] Saturday. At the primary in Walamet precinct C L Shepard and J N Martin were chosen delegates. John Stansbury was nominated for Justice of the Peace and [illegible] for Constable.

[illegible] The [illegible] now in port brought about [illegible] tons freight. She is advertised to leave for San Francisco on next Tuesday (to-morrow).

The man Miles who was shot at St. Helens some days ago is not yet considered out of danger.

Two or three fellows have had [illegible] put on them in this city within the past two days but no serious damage will result to any of them.

The widow of Sir John Franklin, the arctic explorer whose fate is still uncertain is said to be on her way to this city. She is now over eighty years of age.

Recorder Anderson gave Spud Murphy leave to board at the county jail for thirty days from last Saturday. It would be economy in the county to take him by the year. He has been a regular [illegible] mer for some time. We are inclined to think that if he was employed in some healthy exercise while boarding at the people's expense it would improve his moral character.

OUR SHOWERS. We admit that it sometimes rains a long long time in Oregon but it never pours down with the same violence that it does in [illegible] at any other State that could be named. In a late number of a California exchange we find a dispatch published bearing the date of Portland, April [illegible] that "during the past [illegible] four hours twenty-three inches of rain have fallen at this place." We regret that such word is sent abroad for there are some persons in California who will believe it absurd as it is. That is more rain than has fallen here during the whole year. For instance during the month of January, 1870, the total rain fall in the first [illegible] was as follows as gathered from the monthly report of the Department of Agriculture Maine, [illegible] inches Pennsylvania [illegible] 03, Georgia, 4.11, Mississippi [illegible] 54 Kentucky 6 [illegible]0, Illinois, 4.40, California, 4 75. According to the weather record kept in this city the total rain fall here was 4.[illegible]

[illegible] —The entertainment given at the [illegible] last Saturday evening for the [illegible] of the Depenning family was an occasion of rare interest to all who attended. The music and [illegible] were in excellent taste as to selection, and were rendered in a manner highly satisfactory to the audience. The attendance was very large the whole house being crowded to its utmost capacity many remaining throughout the [illegible] who were unable to find sitting [illegible] ladies and gentlemen who kindly volunteered to engage in this benevolent undertaking are entitled to the thanks of the community for their generous example, and have the [illegible] of the widow and orphans.

ACCIDENT —On Saturday last as the construction train on the Oregon and California road, drawn by the locomotive James B Stephens, was [illegible] Judge Matlock's place, one of the [illegible] loaded with earth was accidently thrown from the track, and a man named Richard May was badly injured. The locomotive put right [illegible] to Oregon City, with the injured man, where [illegible] aid was obtained with as little delay as possible. Dr. Barclay made a careful examination and ascertained that no bones were broken, but the man [illegible] great pain from the flesh wounds and [illegible] Another man on the [illegible] slightly injured. Both of them will be well [illegible]

DEATH OF DR JOHN A VEACH —The death of this gentleman at East Portland, [illegible] morning made a profound impression on this community. He had only been a resident of this county a few months having come to Oregon about two years ago but his active energy in the [illegible] of science and the general [illegible] which characterized him in his [illegible] with [illegible] around him a circle of friends who [illegible] his loss. His wife died a few months [illegible] leaving him with no relatives or family in Oregon, but in his last hours he was attended [illegible] true hearted friends.

Shaking and Burning.
It is not necessary to journey from the tropics to Alaska in order to experience the extremes of heat and cold. Thousands undergo all the inconveniences of this thermometrical change every day, or every other day, as the case may be, without the trouble of moving over the threshold. A word with these involuntary shakers! What are they doing to expedite their return to a medium temperature?—to break the chills and banish the fever! Are they dosing themselves with quinine, thereby imperiling the soundness of their bones and impairing the vigor of their brains and nervous systems? Some of them are, no doubt, but not the majority of them, it is believed. The value of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a harmless and certain specific for fever and ague is understood and appreciated in all parts of the country where intermittents prevail. The residents of such localities begin to take it early in the spring as a protection against the miasma by which they are surrounded, not all of them, perhaps, for a blind adherence to error is the speciality of some people, but the greater number.
If there is any fixed fact in therapeutics, it is this that the bitters are a far better safeguard against all the varieties of periodic maladies produced by unwholesome exhalations than any drug or compound in the materia medica of the profession. This assertion is made with all due respect to the faculty, but being an important truth, and one that nearly concerns the health of large settlements in various parts of the country, and indeed of the public at large, it is made fearlessly. Founded on ample and unimpeachable testimony, it defies disproval.
To break up chills and fevers, as well as to prevent them, there is nothing so reliable as this wholesome vegetable remedy.

The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

FREE LOVE

We love our patrons, both large and small
No choice of sex—we love them all
If it chance to be a luckless wight
No matter, so the "chink" 's in sight!
If it chance to be a worthy man,
We'll trust him, on the fortnight plan;
But would prefer, if the same to him,
To sell him goods for the ready tin.

Send on your orders, send on your chink,
By sending the money you're saving the ink
No danger in sending by your children or wife—
We're all of us married and settled for life
Our love is on the golden plan,
We love the lady as well as the man,
We're partial to none—American or Brittana—
The money's "what's the matter with Hannah."

Come with your bacon, butter and beans,
Come with your lettuce, cabbage and greens,
Come with your chickens, lard and honey,
We'll exchange you goods or pay you the money
One thing bear in mind—if love's taken [illegible]
We never sell goods at less than their cost,
And when reading our sign, reflect that below

Washington Territory Democracy

The Commercial Age thus comments upon the professions of the Mixed Democracy of Washington Territory The Democrats say

We are willing to pay our national debt in strict conformity with our contract Honest Democracy Willing to pay their debts in strict conformity with their contract But what do these twenty honest Democrats mean by the phrase in strict conformity to their contract? They do not say Let the Oregon Democracy define the covert meaning of the phrase They don t mince things they speak out In their State platform adopted at Albany March 24th 1870 they define the phrase to mean "an equitable adjustment of the bonded debt of the United States which means cutting down the debt, and repudiation of the whole if the creditors of the United States are not content to take part Oh! honest Democracy who are willing to pay their debts by "an equitable adjustment." What would any one of the delectable Democrats composing that august body at Vancouver think of his neighbor who would talk about paying his debts by an equitable adjustment. He would set him down as a rascal, just as the patriotic lover of his country must look on the party or individual who talks about the government paying its debts by "equitable adjustment," and as the world would look on our nation if we would think for a moment of paying our debts by any such "hocus pocus" as this

"The body politic," says Burke, that great master of political wisdom "exists in the dignity of the State, in the honor of the people, in the sanctity with which they regard their obligations, in reverence of justice, and in the weight and consideration due to the rights of men and the rights of property"

But what does the Democratic party, which threw all its weight against the government during its struggle with the rebellion, care for the "dignity's honor, or sanctity with which the government regards its obligations" They were opposed to contracting the debt for putting down the rebellion and now they are opposed to paying it Honest Democracy, consistent Democracy!

But the most peculiar thing about this very peculiar platform, is the plank declaring that the Democracy "are in favor of the government extending aid in the construction of the North Pacific and other railroads in our Territory." A declaration of this kind, right in the face of the declared and united purpose of the Democratic members of both Houses of Congress, as a party measure to oppose all kinds of aid by land grants or otherwise, astonishes everybody except the delegated twenty who gave utterance to it and, we venture to say, they smiled at their own duplicity when the echo of these deceitful words were thrown back upon them by the walls of Edding's Hall, where they were assembled

What Came of Distraining a Baby's Cradle for Rent

A curious and novel case was tried before Justice Willes at the spring assizes of the Northern Circuit in England held at Durham last month Bridget McIntyre, an Irish woman, was charged with manslaughter of one George Vasey, at a place called Willington, on the 1st of February of the present year. The circumstances of the homicide were peculiar.

Vasey, the deceased, was a sheriff's officer The prisoner's husband had failed to pay his rent, and the bailiff went to the house to distrain for it. There he found the prisoner, her husband being absent at the time In the room which he entered was her baby lying quietly in its cradle. Whether the bailiff was unable to find anything else or not does not clearly appear; but, at all events he told the woman that he must have that cradle. She very naturally refused to let him take it, saying that he might have everything else there was in the house, but not that He insisted, and the altercation between them, thus begun, was brought to a climax by the bailiff, who turned the baby out of the cradle, which he passed to an under-bailiff standing at the door The exasperated mother seized the first offensive weapon at hand, which was, as it happened, a rolling-pin. With this she struck the officer two heavy blows on the head and as he retreated she flung an earthen jug at him. This was broken to pieces over his head

The bailiff departed. He went home, took to his bed, and after an illness of six days died of erysipelas and extravasation of blood on the brain. It was not maintained on the part of the defense that death resulted from any other cause than the blows inflicted by the angry woman

The jury found the prisoner guilty, but with a recommendation to mercy. This recommendation was not favorably considered by the Court, and Justice Willes ordered that she should find two sureties in £20 (about $100) each to keep the peace for twelve months, and that upon so doing she should be discharged. He said, in the course of the trial, that the distraint of the cradle was quite illegal, and being so, the woman used no more force than was necessary to resist it, a bailiff might as well distrain a shirt upon a person's back or a cradle with a child in it. Even a horse upon which a man is riding cannot legally be distrained, much less a baby's cradle in which the baby lay.

GROWING WISER —A late San Francisco paper has the following in reference to certain over-scrupulous officials in California who refused to recognize a law inconsistent with their own means.

"The first natural ebullition of Democratic wrath at the official announcement of the dread fiat that lifts the man of the swarthy skin to the level (so far as political rights and privileges are concerned) of his more favored fellow man blessed with a paler epidermis, is fast subsiding. Recalcitrant County Clerks who wanted an Act of our Democratic Legislature to confirm a provision of the Constitution of the United States, or clamored for a certificate from Hamilton Fish to authenticate the infamous fact that the President really had issued a Proclamation; all these scrupulous and oppugnant officials have at last hauled in their horns, and are now become rivals in meekness of that great man of old, who good little boys, posted in their catechism, know as "the meekest man." This is gratifying, and as it should be. Our Democratic friends are getting used to that odious Fifteenth Amendment, and there is a cheering prospect that the Democratic lion will learn to lie down with the colored lamb as peacefully as is foretold of their prototypes in Apocalyptic vision Surely the political millennium is at hand."

A CHARACTERISTIC SCENE —A late number of the Workingman's Journal of San Francisco has the following characteristic description of the closing scenes, on the last night of the session of the California Democratic Legislature

Pandemonium and Bedlam, or the Feast of Belshazzar, was as nothing in comparison to the scenes enacted on the last night of the Legislature of a Thousand Commissioners We understand that during the last scenes of that notorious conclave during their drunken orgies, one of the country members while drunk and outside of the building, was tied to a tree and robbed of sixty dollars, stripped of his hat, coat and boots, and was not relieved until five o clock the next morning We will throw the mantle of charity over the man by not giving his name One man was seen running off with a copy of Webster's Dictionary Oh! shade of Henry Hamilton Clay, and Webster look down with compassion on your degenerate sons in the Senate and Assembly of Sacramento including the lobby members

CHEERING —The San Jose Mercury of April 13th says

It is a cheering fact that all the city elections that have been held this year in California have resulted in Republican victories Marysville Sacramento Oakland and San Jose have all given Republican majorities within a short time All of these except San Jose elected straight Republican tickets and here we had an average majority of 75 out of 1,224 votes We consider on the whole that the prospect is cheering, and believe that when another State election comes around the people of California will effectually shake off the incubus of Democracy which is now weighing them down and crushing out all vitality

Cease your dastardly truckling and yielding to the death deserving usurpators who have usurped the Government! Cease your infamous temporizing your cringing and fawning! ONE OF THE HOG FAMILY Every person who has boarded at a city hotel or boarding house has noticed the grab game system of operations which often prevails at these places during meal time At every such place there are persons with piggish manners and voracious appetites who seek to swoop into their own plates the lion's share of any delicacies which may be placed on the table compelling others to "look after Number One" in self defence Some years ago one of our city hotels was favored with a boarder of this sort, who had a frightfully ravenous appetite —to which Justice Greedy's in the play "wasn't a circumstance" He was a tall lantern-jawed chap, with an exceedingly hungry look and had the dilating powers of an anaconda Only Ichabod Crane, or huge mouthed Gargantua, with his enormous appetite for "plenty of links and chitterlings, and puddings in their season" could be parallel, and what rendered him a still more formidable competitor at the dinner table was a pair of long arms, which enabled him to swoop in all the "creature comforts far and near, about his plate, while he bolted them with a rapidity which would have thrown Graham into hysterics. Among the things of which he was exceedingly fond were strawberries in their season, which he generally contrived to crowd so fast into his "abdominal pantry" that few of his fellow boarders could secure any portion of the luxury One day a plan was laid by the latter, with the assistance of the servants, to mortify him if possible, and shame him out of his gluttony

After he had cleared the dish, as usual, of its contents, and had called to the servant, 'Here, John bring me a few more of the strawberries! two or three waiters came in, bearing a huge platter loaded with his favorite luxury, and, clearing a wide space among the dishes, deposited it before him Our hero's eyes sparkled with a perfect ecstacy of delight at the prospect before him, he coughed and cleared his throat, drew his chair nearer to the table, rolled up the cuff of his coat-sleeves, and then proceeded coolly and deliberately, but with amazing celerity, to relieve the platter of its contents. In an incredibly brief time the entire heap of strawberries had disappeared, having been transferred with magical dexterity to our hero's stomach and, turning to "John," who was transfixed with astonishment, he said

"John, couldn't you contrive to scare up another dish of these strawberries somehow And mind bring me a good lot of them—for I should like to get my share of them once!"—Western Monthly for April

THE RED RIVER DELEGATES TO CANADA —The St Paul Press of April 6th says two of the Red River delegates or commissioners to the Canadian Government, Messrs Scott and Richot, arrived in that city on the 5th, en route to Ottawa The other member of the delegation Judge Black is on his way and will arrive in a day or two Col. Rankin, Col De Salaberry and Mr McCarthy are also among the arrivals from the settlement These gentlemen report the Red River valley flooded with water from the melting snows to the depth of from three to six feet, and some of them traveled for fifty miles through three feet of water. An immense inundation of the low savannas of the whole interior valley is anticipated

We learn from these gentlemen that Bishop Tache, who has been generally supposed to have gone to the settlement as a Commissioner from Canada, with power to treat for a pacific settlement of difficulties, has publicly disclaimed having returned upon any political mission or in any other capacity than that of the Bishop of the Diocese This announcement was made at a public meeting, with a view to allay the apprehension excited by the popular supposition that he had returned as the accredited representative of the Dominion Government and that he had pledged himself to employ his influence in the promotion of the views of the Canadian Ministry

Mr Alfred Scott, of this delegation who it will be remembered, was elected as a delegate to the Red River convention which adopted the Bill of Rights, and elected him one of the three commissioners to Canada, was at the time announced by some of our correspondents as an American and as having served as a Union soldier We learn that this statement is incorrect He is we believe an Englishman by birth though he has been fully in sympathy with the cause of his adopted Northwest country Father Richot is a Catholic clergyman and has been one of the leading spirits in the movement which has resulted in the establishment of the Riel government Judge Black has for many years held the position of the chief judicial officer of the old government of Assiniboia, which is now superceded, and he presided over the convention which elected him one of the delegates to Canada It is impossible to predict the result of the conference of these gentlemen with the Canadian Ministry and they are of course chary of expressing their own views

WHAT HORSES BRING —Horses of great reputation says the Turf Field and Farm have always commanded great prices At Newmarket in 1805 a bay colt by Pipator sold for $75,000 In the same year a two-years old colt by Benningborough, a two-year old by Volunteer and a three-year old filly by Sir Peter, were sold for $75 000 each For the celebrated horse Shark $50 000 was refused and O Kelly declined to accept an offer of $100 000 for his stallion Eclipse Tradition says that the Duke of Devonshire refused for Flying Childers the weight of the horse in gold A few years ago the great sire Stockwell could not be bought for $100 000 and we presume that when Gladiateur was carrying everything before him on the English turf the Count le LaGrange would not have parted with him for $150 000 Coming to America we find that his son Kentucky was sold for $40 000 Mr Alexander refused $50 000 for Asteroid Kentucky's half brother and Norfolk another half brother was valued at $40 000

Judge Bradley of the United States Supreme Court will go to New Orleans on the 1st of May to try such cases as may come before him
